Introduction

The 37 Beans and Dreams is a small sized enterprise which was first established in the year of 2023 by Café owner Mr. Albert S. Antonio in 416 Brotherhood St. Perpetual Village Barangay Real, Bacoor, Cavite. They offer services through a cart-based booth café available during a wide range of events such as weddings, birthdays, seminars, team-buildings, and more. Their flagship products are mainly bottled with different tastes of coffee beverages like (e.g., Americano, Café Latte, Spanish Latte) and non-coffee options (e.g., Strawberry Latte, Chocolate) which they offer to their customers. In this specific project, the group has proposed to make a website application of 37 Beans and Dreams Mr. Albert S. Antonios permission to use their brand as a legal concept to be used for educational purposes. Ensuring all data rights and brand elements that are to be used necessary for the creation of the Website Application of 37 Beans and Dreams belongs to Mr. Albert S. Antonio respectfully.

Section 1A: Planning – Core Questions

1. What is the purpose of the website?

The purpose of the website is to enhance and establish its online presence to complement its existing social media platforms (e.g., Facebook, Instagram, TikTok) that the 37 Beans and Dreams are currently engaging from. With the help of a website, potential customers can avail themselves of products and services thus allowing engagement and discovery about what the company has to offer to the customers. By integrating a booking platform, customers can schedule cart-based café services for events, which can be made feasible and functional by java script.

2. Who is the target audience?

The target audience of the website should be designed and focused with a diverse audience in mind, ensuring it meets the needs of various groups.

- Event organizers and planners, such as those managing weddings, birthdays, seminars, corporate events, or team-building activities, will find it an invaluable resource for securing unique and convenient catering services.
- Coffee enthusiasts, always on the lookout for high-quality bottled beverages including specialty coffees and non-coffee options, will appreciate the café's offerings. Additionally, local residents of Bacoor, Cavite, and surrounding areas will be drawn to the site to discover new and local café choices for takeout, delivery, or catering.
- Social media users, particularly those who have encountered the café on platforms like Facebook, Instagram, or TikTok, will be able to easily find more information and services online.
- Business clients and companies hosting corporate events or seminars will benefit from professional beverage services that cater to their attendees.
- Young adults and millennials, known for their trend-conscious preferences, will be attracted to the café's product and service aesthetics of their drinks and experiences, perfect for creating personalized and memorable events.
- Lastly, educational and research groups, including students and teachers organizing seminars or workshops, will find accessible, mobile café services that suit their needs.

By engaging with these varied audiences, the website should feature user-friendly navigation, clear service descriptions, a simple booking process, and engaging content.

3. What is the image to portray?

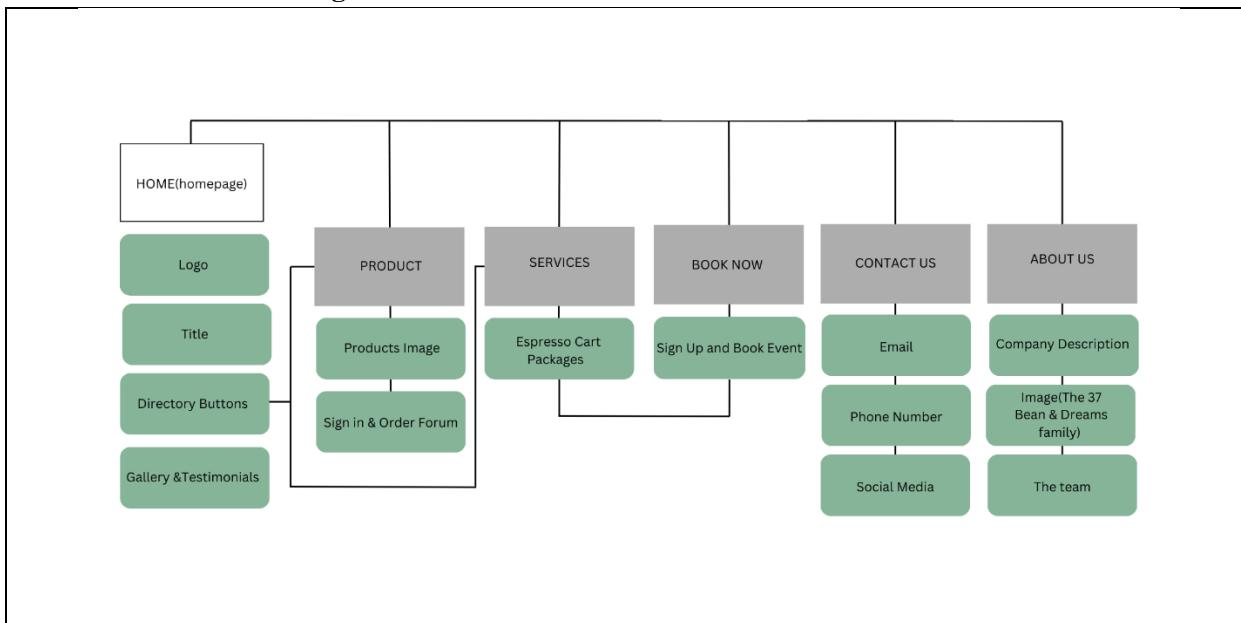

Creating a website for the small size enterprise showcases the business' professionalism and credibility by allowing customers to conveniently browse and purchase products and services from a functional online store that belongs to the 37 Beans and Dreams.

4. Additional Description / Notes

In creating the website, 3 code languages will be utilized which are HTML, CSS, and Java Script. For HTML, the team will formulate the structure of the website incorporating the CSS code using "In-text CSS Coding Method" specifically only for the "home.html" page in order to support the font of the logo or banner in the home page, thus this will create efficiency in editing and manipulating code elements of the home page from HTML and CSS. The HTML code is responsible for the structure while CSS is responsible for the whole design of the website. The team will utilize 4 Java Script codes to separate the functional codes for the product page, service page, booking page, and contact page. It is essential to separate the Java Script of the website in order to easily revise the script of the website which is also edited by the Visual Studio Code (VS Code) application to make the website functional and indented correctly.

Section 1B: Planning – Site Map

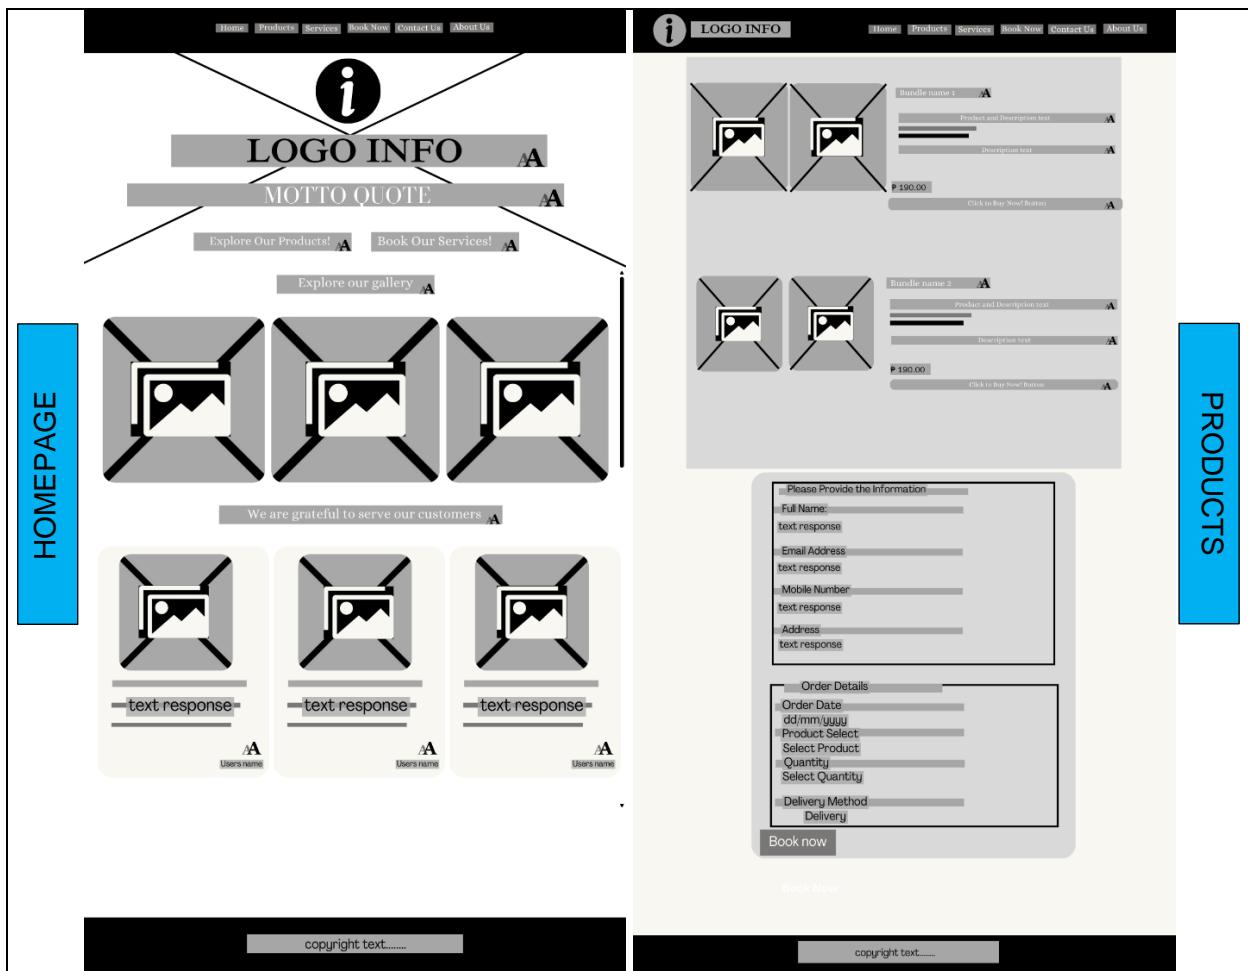

1. Architectural Design

The goal of the web page is to provide multiple interactive features that are easy to navigate and can easily be learned by the user. For this webpage, the team will be utilizing a website that has a “Wide Navigation Architecture” for easier visual column access. The use of Navigation Bar will be essential for this Web Design especially in organizing and separating one html file structure for each page (e.g., Home, Products, Services, Contact Us, About Us).

Section 2B: Web Design – Color

	Background Colors: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Cream (#f1e6d5) Since cream is warm, neutral, and comfortable to the eye, it's an excellent choice for a background and will avoid visual fatigue. Warm, low-saturation colors like cream make it easier to read and offer a more comfortable view, according to a study in the Journal of Ergonomics. For the main website background, the team will be utilizing the cream color to create a warm and relaxing atmosphere that would be perfect in a coffee shop.
	Text & Element Colors: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Black (#000000) - Body Text The highest contrast is provided by black on lighter backgrounds and thus is easier to read. As published in the International Journal of Human-Computer Studies, one of the most effective combinations for ensuring a user's attention and guaranteeing readability is black text on light backgrounds, such as cream. Use black for headings, navigation menus, and body text.

 	2. Beaver (#9f8170) - Secondary Text or Highlights In line with the coffee theme, brown evokes warmth, trustworthiness, and the outdoors. A study published in Color Research and Application says that earthy colors such as brown are ideal for secondary text or headings because they give a feeling of warmth and trust. For highlights, subheadings, or captions that complement the cream background without overpowering the design, use brown. 3. White (#ffffff) - Accent Elements White represents the notion of modernity and purity. A research article in Behavioral and Information Technology argues that visual separation through the application of white space or white highlights enhances users' information digestion. For the design to be clean and clear, apply white to the button, border, and dividers.
 	Other Colors: 1. Yellow (#f7b224) - Call-to-Action Buttons & Highlights: Yellow is a highly catching, attention-grabbing color. Bright colors like yellow cause users to engage more often with components like buttons and banners, a research found in the Journal of Consumer Psychology. Yellow-colored buttons for call-to-action actions like "Order now," "Join now," or similar promotion features like discounts and special offers. 2. Green (#8cc43e) - Decorative and Secondary Highlights: Green represents sustainability, development, and freshness. A Sage Journals study has shown that green is great for coffee shops with sustainability at the forefront of their priorities as it is associated with organic branding and environmental choice. Use it on accents, icons, or ornamental elements that bring to attention environmental friendly features, such as "Recyclable Packaging" or "Sustainable Sourcing."

Section 2C: Web Design – Font

Import Google Font Library; Noto Serif	Banner/Logo Font or Heading Font The Google Font Library – Noto Serit will be used for the banner/logo font or heading font to highlight the company name which will get the user's attention by establishing “37 Beans and Dreams” as the forefront banner of the website.

Times New Roman; Serif	Navigation Menu Font & Item Title Font The Times New Roman in Serif will be utilized for the navigation font and Item Title Font which is found on the navigation bar of the website which establishes professionalism and minimalist aesthetic over the course of the website.
Arial; Sans-serif	Body Font The Arial in Sans-serif will cover majority of the text information or data of the website, for easy readability and appearance, making text more neutral and objective in presenting information.

Section 2D: Web Design - Mockup

1. Design Inspirations

The team's design inspiration are mostly influenced by the majority of the course's subject activities, specifically in Introduction to Programming subject by Dr. Amanda Jane C. Menta. By basing on our previous lessons, requirements, ideas, and outputs from recent laboratory activities, the team is able to apply and formulate a website that the team is proud and honored to be a part of.

2. Final Output

The website for 37 Beans and Dreams features a clean, modern design with a brown header containing navigation links: Home, Products, Services, Book Now, Contact Us, and About Us. The main visual is a large image of a coffee cup with steam rising from it. Below the header, the title "37 Beans and Dreams" is displayed in a bold, sans-serif font. A sub-headline reads "From our hearts to your cups! We are your one-stop cafe for events, coffee cravings, and more!" followed by two buttons: "Explore Our Products!" and "Book Our Services!". A section titled "Explore our Gallery" shows three images of coffee products: a bottle of cold brew, a carton of iced coffee, and a carton of espresso. A testimonial box on the left says: "We are grateful to serve our customers!" and includes three small photos of people in a cafe setting. Another testimonial box on the right says: "Happy 75th Birthday, Tita Lina! It was our pleasure to serve freshly brewed coffee to you and your wonderful guests. Here's to many more years of joy, love, and celebration! With warm wishes." The footer contains a copyright notice: "© 2024 37 Beans and Dreams. All rights reserved."
